

notice

application filed for plaza use gansevoort street [from hudson to 9th] saturday, may 31 8:53pm to 11pm

Neighborhood Public Radio, a community arts collective, has filed an application with the Community Board No. 2 - Manhattan to use Gansevoort Plaza to present an outdoor film and radio broadcast called “Illuminated Corridor: NOVA”

The exhibition will include projection of original, experimental film and video on plaza surfaces and façades opposite businesses and residences on Gansevoort Street. No projection will be directed at residences.

This exhibition is a non-commercial, community art event presenting local artists in collaboration with Neighborhood Public Radio in residence at 941 Madison Street (“American Life”) taking place March 6 - June 1.

Please visit www.neighborhoodpublicradio.org to learn more.

If you have any questions about this application for plaza use, please contact:

Suki O’Kane
NOVA Coordinator
415.217.9062
suki@illuminatedcorridor.com

LeE Montgomery
Project Director
415.515.5369
npr@neighborhoodpublicradio.org

Learn more:

For answers to frequently asked questions about the Illuminated Corridor, please visit

illuminatedcorridor.com/faq

941 Madison Avenue
New York, New York 10021

Neighborhood Public Radio has designed this event to minimize disruption to our neighbors.

- There will be no stage, tent, public address system, or loud music.
- There will be no street closure or displacement of parking
- No food booths, alcohol or vendors will be present.
- Volunteers from NPR will clean the plaza before and after the exhibition.

You are invited to participate.

- This event is free and open to the general public.
- Tune into the broadcast at neighborhoodpublicradio.org.
- Join the broadcast by using the Portable Radio Instrument in the Plaza to tell your NOVA tale.